INDIAN SILVERSMITHS

The Artistic and Varied Productions of the Navajos.

There can be no prettier gift or souvenir for the money expended than a specimen of Navajo silverware. It is not generally known that the Navajo Indians are expert silversmiths. Their work may be thought by the uninitiated to be crude because it is different from the work of the white silversmith but on the contrary, it is all artistic and different from any other. The Navajos are commonly supposed to be a tribe of blanket weavers, and as a matter of fact they do excel in that industry and so do they

But many a woman who has gladly faced poverty for the man she loved, may well doubt her wisdom when pain becomes the mate of poverty. If she were rich, she thinks, she could find a way of cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is within the reach of every one. It lifts the burden of pain which weighs down those who suffer from womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"You have my heartfelt thanks for your kind advice to me," writes Mrs. Geo. Pfeiffer, of 103 Victoria Avenue, Galt, Ontario. "Was troubled with catarrh of uterus for over a year. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, also his Ladies' Tablets and Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories. Now I am completely cured, and using the bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am glad to say his medicine has made me a new woman."

Weak and sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In the art of making Indian jewelry.

R. L. Hake at the Big Curio store has in stock a profusion of their work consisting of bracelets, rings, buckles, neck chains and belts. Those Indians make these articles for the adornment of themselves and their horses. They will make nothing out of bullion nor will they take silver from the ground. They have a superstition that the influence of the evil spirit is still over it and cannot be removed until it has received the stamp of government. Most of the coins used by them are those of the United States. Any other stamped coin would do as well but they have readier access to the American coins and so use them almost exclusively. The value of the coin fixes the price of their work. A silver dollar whatever may be its intrinsic value is still a silver dollar to the Navajo after it has been hammered or engraved into an ornament.

One of the most expensive specimens of their handwork is the belt of the chief. These belts consist of eight or ten large oval pieces or shields of silver fastened together on a leather belt. Some of these shields contain as much as $10 worth of silver. Another interesting ornament is the buckle for the moccasin. Some of the most beautiful specimens made by them are buttons of dollars, halves or quarters made for the bridles of their horses. The Navajo, unlike the Mexican puts all the adornment on the bridle and none on his saddle. The silver on a Navajo bridle is frequently worth $150.

Many of the bracelets and pins made by the Indians are set with turquoise, garnets and other stones found in that part of the country, and this work is skillfully done. Then there are the Swastika crosses which come in all shapes, pendants, and pins, some of them set with stones and some chased in a most artistic manner.

The demand for the silverwork of the Navajos has outstripped the supply so that many unprincipled dealers are selling for the work of the Navajos the cheaper and inferior work of the Mexicans. There is naturally a strong temptation to do this but in the long run it does not pay. Mr. Hake has never committed this substitution and in consequence he has lost many sales but the profit he might have made on them would not offset the loss of the reputation which he has been building up in the course of years by selling every article for precisely what it is.

A DEMAND FOR MONEY

The Supervisors Direct One Against Union High School Trustees.

There is now in course of preparation a formal demand upon the trustees of the high school board for the return to the county treasurer of $2,600 paid by the board for several lots adjoining the high school property and for other purposes alleged to be not authorized by law. It is probable that some action will immediately follow the presentation of the demand probably before the end of the week. The demand will be made upon not only the present members of the board but also upon those whose terms have expired. Among them will be Thos. E. Dalton. But the demand to be made upon Mr. Dalton in the absence of definite knowledge regarding his present port-office address will be wholly theoretical.

After the failure of the last proposition for the union high school district to vote bonds sufficient to replace the money with which the lots had been paid for and other needed improvements there was a conference between the trustees and the board of supervisors. It was suggested at that time that the property might be sold again and something was said about calling a mass meeting of the people of the district to authorize the trustees to offer the property for sale. Nothing has been done concerning it.

It is said that the trustees can lose nothing in any event. The property is said by real estate men to be worth more than the school paid for it and that in the course of a year it will be worth still more. It is thought therefore that if there should not be a ready sale, the trustees would take it in.

FROM THE ASHES.

Baltimore Family's Experience Points a Moral to Residents of Phoenix.

The visitor to Baltimore today scarcely realizes that less than a year ago the city was almost destroyed by a memorable fire. A similar comparison might be made by George W. Nally, one of the leading citizens of Baltimore, as to the change in his own looks.

A short time ago, Mr. Nally, writing from his home address, 2213 Barclay street, says: "I have been troubled for years with catarrh and had resorted to all remedies that could be thought of. My wife was also afflicted with this terrible disease, but all the treatments we used were an absolute failure until we tried Hyomel. It worked like a charm and has made a complete cure in both of our cases. There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomel. We breathed it, and its fragrance, so clean, pure and refreshing, killed all the catarrhal germs in the head, throat, and lungs."

The experience of Mr. Nally and his wife certainly points a moral to all readers of the Arizona Republican who are suffering from catarrh. It shows how they can be cured of this frightful disease, without dangerous stomach dosing. H. Goodman, the local agent for Hyomel, has so much faith in the treatment that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. A complete outfit costs one dollar, the extra bottles are but fifty cents. Ask to see the strong guarantee under which Hyomel is sold.

A SONG OF THANKSGIVING

Accept our loving thanks, dear Lord
For all thy daily gifts,
For the glory of the sunshine,
For the cloud that o'er us drifts.

For the beautiful blue above us,
For the clearness of the sky,
For the water that refreshes,
And for all that makes life fair.

For the birds that sing of summer,
For the flowers that laugh at frost,
For the daily hourly blessings
All provided free of cost.

For the blessed bond of friendship,
For the hand-clasp, warm and strong,
For the smile and word of greeting,
For the glorious gift of song.

For the wondrous charm of music,
For the tender ties of love,
For the gleam of stars at night time
In the sheltering arch above.

Best of all we bless and thank thee
For the love that gave us birth,
With the knowledge of Thy presence
In our hearts and in the earth.

Bless and praise Thee for the knowledge
That Thou art our loving friend,
That we each may claim our birthright
In a love that knows no end.
